Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 06 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudier, less cold on Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any showers will become confined to Norfolk during the evening, with lighter winds away from the north Norfolk coast and clearer skies leading to a cold night with a widespread frost, more noticeable in western parts. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Wednesday:
Plenty of morning sunshine on Wednesday. Some cloudier conditions in the afternoon, largely dry and bright but perhaps the odd shower in the far west. Less cold than previous days. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Dry but becoming largely cloudy on Thursday, feeling slightly milder. Cloudy with patchy rain on Friday, clearing slowly. Early frost on Saturday, then sunny with wintry showers, perhaps locally heavy.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.